Nominate Stettinius Secretary

Roosevelt's Choice To Succeed Cordell Hull, of Tennessee Who Has Resigned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(P)—President Roosevelt nominated Undersecretary Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., to be secretary of state.

Two and a half hours after accepting the resignation of Secretary of State Hull, because of ill health, the President sent the name of Stettinius to the senate as Hull's successor.

The President earlier lunched with Stettinius and also conferred with Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and Senator George (D-Ga.) ranking committee member.

Mr. Roosevelt had disclosed that Hull's resignation would become effective upon the appointment of a successor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today the resignation of Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

It will become effective, the chief executive said, upon the appointment of a successor.

On the question of a successor, Mr. Roosevelt had nothing to say.

The president told an informal news conference that it was with great and deep regret that he was announcing that Hull was quitting the cabinet. But he said the 73-year-old Tennessee would remain in close touch with him, acting as an adviser on foreign policy.

Hull's health is the reason for his giving up his cabinet post in these important times and lifting his hand from machinery now being assembled to perpetuate peace.

The information that Hull had handed in his resignation was given to the Associated Press last night by a high government official who asked that his name not be used.

Visited by President

The president saw Hull yesterday at the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., where he had been a patient for five weeks, and told him then that he felt, under the circumstances, he should accept the resignation.

The chief executive declared that Hull's doctors told the secretary, and Hull felt, that his complete recovery from a long illness would be retarded if he continued to bear the responsibilities of his cabinet portfolio.

Hull feels, Mr. Roosevelt reported, that it also would not be right for the country if he were to remain on the job.

As for a man to fill the state department position, Mr. Roosevelt said he had nothing to say. He gave no indication whether an appointment might be expected soon or somewhat later on.

Recovery Will Be Slow

The president noted today that Hull was coming along all right physically but that it was a long process of recovery. He recalled that it was necessary two or three years ago for the secretary to spend several months in Florida.

He had to think of the secretary's recovery and taking official responsibilities off his shoulders this time, the president said.

But Hull will be in and around Washington, he added. He had a bit of difficulty describing in what capacity Hull would continue to serve, but said he supposed reporters could put it that it would be as adviser on foreign policy.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius had luncheon with Mr. Roosevelt today shortly after the White House announcement. Stettinius earlier had cancelled his own scheduled noon news.

The news of Hull's resignation was made momentous by the high place he has won in the esteem of Americans and of the world.

War Chest Fund Under Quota

Heber U. Hunt, general chairman for the War Chest Fund drive in Pettis county, stated this morning that to date the sum of $24,787.99 has been raised in the county. The quota is $37,393.80.

Of the amount raised $23,872.99 is in cash, $9,015.00 in pledges. Mr. Hunt and his committee are desirous of closing the drive, and ask those who have not yet made their reports to do so. They would also like to have the pledges taken care of that the money may be distributed.

Anyone who has not contributed, and wishes to do so, may send or take the money to the Chamber of Commerce.

Soldiers Lose Arm or a Leg But Not Spirits

Despite Seriousness Of Wounds They Have Sense of Humor

By Franklin Banker

WITH THE U.S. NINTH ARMY IN GERMANY, Nov. 27.—(P)—Doughboys wounded along the Ninth army front may have lost an arm or a leg but not their spirit or their sense of humor.

Despite the seriousness of their wounds, the GIs manage to be so funny they have the evacuation hospital wards sounding like a minstrel show.

The surgical wards are full of bandaged men and the odor of medicine, as well as memories of battle, but the boys still laugh.

"Some of these boys are hurt so badly I don't know how they ever will get well but they are always thinking of something funny to say," said Lt. Julia Blandford, a nurse, of Louisville.

"On Thanksgiving night they brought in a wounded boy who had been captured by the Germans while in a pillbox. All he had to eat for five days was a piece of black bread.

"He pretended to be mad because he missed a turkey dinner. He said he would write President Roosevelt about it."

Lt. Blandford said another boy who lost both legs never complained a bit.

Got Five Germans
All he said was "Well, I got five Germans before they hit me."

"I asked one boy if he hit a mine," the nurse continued. "He replied 'No, the mine hit me.'"

"I pulled a sheet up to treat a soldier who had his whole back ripped off.

"Don't pull that sheet over me. I'm not dead yet," he said."

His face chalky from shrapnel wounds of the legs, abdomen and chest, another soldier was able to laugh over the fact "They almost have to turn me upside down to use the bedpan."

"After watching German soldier patients you realize what our boys have got," Lt. Blandford said. "The Germans may think they are a master race but they sure change in hospitals. They whine when you touch them. They're perfect babies."

Miss Bacon's Brother Prisoner of Germans

Miss Dorothy Bacon, 923 South Barrett avenue, county home demonstration agent, has returned from Lincoln, Neb., where she has been visiting relatives.

Friday Miss Bacon's mother, who resides in Lincoln, received word that her son, Staff Sergeant Floyd Bacon, is a prisoner of war of the Germans. A previous message, received on the fourth of October, stated he had been missing since September.

German Cruiser Has Been Damaged

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—The German navy cruiser "Prinz Eugen" has been damaged and taken to a German Baltic port, the Paris radio said today, quoting Swedish reports.

The Russians recently reported damaging a German cruiser attempting to evacuate the Nazi garrison from Svorbe peninsula and the Paris broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, suggested this was possibly the 10,000 ton "Prinz Eugen."

Bronze Star Medal is Awarded To Sgt. George W. Chester

A U. S. Troop Carrier Force Base, European Theater of Operations—Master Sergeant George W. Chester, whose wife, Mrs. George Chester, lives in Sedalia, Missouri, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service covering a period of active duty from the overwhelming invasion of Normandy to the recent airborne offensive in Holland. He was cited for displaying an energy, zeal and devotion to duty which, in a large measure, contributed to the eminent success achieved by the troop carrier unit operating in this theater.

One of five to receive the coveted award, Sgt. Chester, line chief of his unit, was presented with the medal for his outstanding contribution, which served to bring distinction to his organization.

His units played a major part in the invasion of Normandy, southern France, and the recent offensive in Holland. Commanded by Col. Frank J. Macnees of St. Paul, Minn., they were awarded a presidential citation for "Meritorious Achievement" on D-Day over Normandy.

Formerly a part of the Ninth Troop Carrier Command, his unit is now a part of the U. S. Troop Carrier Force, headed by Maj. Gen. Paul L. Williams and is the major air component of the First Allied Airborne Army.

Before entering the service in February, 1941, Sgt. Chester, a graduate of Montrose high school, South Dakota, class of '40, was employed by the Miller Steam Fitting company, Huntington, Oregon. His father, Edward Chester, is now living in Wayne, Neb. Sgt. Chester is a veteran of 12 months' overseas service.

Mr. Sherman and family reside at 401 South Park avenue. They came to Sedalia nearly two years ago from Kansas City, where Mr. Sherman was pastor of the First Christian church there. He succeeded Rev. A. W. Kokendoff, made pastor emeritus.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman have two children, Helen, at home, and Pfc. Richard Sherman, with the United States Marines, now in service in the Philippines.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sherman have been active, not only in the church affairs of Sedalia, but in the social and civic life, during their residence here.

Past State Commander Was Among Guests

The Walter Elkins Post, No. 2508, Veterans of Foreign Wars, entertained members of other posts in the sixth district at the V. F. W. hall Sunday and at the same time members of the auxiliaries of the sixth district held a meeting at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Guests of honor from out of town were Dr. Arthur B. A turkey dinner was served to fifty-three guests at the Hildebrandt. The tables were attractive with bowls of autumn flowers.

Following the dinner the Veterans of Foreign Wars members went to the V. F. W. hall where an instructive meeting was held with Dr. Brix as the guest speaker. Dr. Brix also paid his official visit to the auxiliary.

Question-Answer Session
Mrs. McWhirter was the speaker of the auxiliary meeting. A question and answer session was held at this meeting and many good points were brought out and discussed.

Punishment Should be in Background

Parole Officer Believes Treatment Should Fit Case

Speaking before the Sedalia Rotary Club at the Hotel Bothwell today, noon, on the subject, "The Prevention of the Second Offender," Rev. Earl Cox, parole officer, Jefferson City, said: "There are 1650 men released from the prisons of the U. S. daily. Our great problem is what is to become of these men. Will they continue to prey on society or will they become law abiding citizens." "Of course," said the speaker, "we must keep in mind the two-fold purpose of punishment, first to protect society and second to reform and rehabilitate the offender. But too often we are simply concerned with the first of these. We still subscribe to the obsolete dictum, let the punishment fit the crime, whereas, we should have as our motto, 'Let the Treatment Fit the Case.' Today there is an alarming number, and a growing number of juvenile lawbreakers, between the ages of 17 and 23. Our old methods of dealing with this class have been proved both stupid and ineffective, as shown by the fact that from forty to sixty percent of these are repeaters. Why this crime wave among the young? No one can say. It arises from many causes, among which might be cited, crimes for sheer thrill, crimes from impulse, and crimes from gang thinking. But the fact remains that for each notorious outlaw, there are at least one hundred youngsters caught in the net of wrong doing. To reclaim a greater number of these for useful citizenship, I want to submit these suggestions for your consideration. First we must put punishment in the background. Second the general public should be more enlightened. Third we must have expert penologists, and criminologists in charge of these offenders, and finally we must keep our penal institutions personnel out of politics."

Lawrence Barnett, president, was in charge of the meeting. During the preliminary program, Lee Peabody, Sr., and Lee Peabody, Jr., sang a duet accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Monegan. Ed Edwards program chairman for November called on Rev. J. Fred King to introduce the speaker of the day. Guests were: Rotarians, Thomas T. Mooney, Eva Claire, Wis. L. J. Brown, Lexington, and K. P. McCrary, Glasgow; John Brougher, Sabetha Kansas, with his son Harry Brougher, and Lee Peabody, Jr., of Altus, Okla., with his father, Lee Peabody.

Superfortresses Bomb Tokyo Again, Strike Also at Targets in Thailand; First Army 14 Miles Inside Germany

Heavy Fighting Continues in Aachen Sector, Yanks Close In Yord by Yord

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—In a storm of hard and bloody fighting, First army Americans stormed today into the center of Langerwehe, 24½ miles from Cologne and last major German road center west of the flooded Roer river. At dusk, the infantry was slugging it out with the Nazis there, house to house.

By William Frye

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—Americans of the First Army advanced a mile today and captured Frenz, 14 miles inside Germany and 25 miles short of Cologne, while men of the Third extended their front inside the Reich to 19 miles at the western fringe of the industrial Saarland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' troops also drove into Hurlgen at the edge of the deadly forest by that name. German resistance was strong; the enemy's cannon and anti-tank fire was especially heavy. The weather was relatively clear allowing overwhelming Allied air power to support the infantry and churning tanks. Hurlgen is 27½ miles southwest of Cologne.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd army fought through Maginot line fortresses on a sector southeast of the new penetration into Germany, moving within four miles of the Saar border.

Seventh army troops broadened the Strasbourg corridor to almost 15 miles and spilled through the Saales pass to open a new route to the French city at the Rhine. They were within eight miles of still another clean break through the Vosges mountains in the Ste. Marie pass east of St. Die.

Heavy Fighting

Heavy fighting continued in the Aachen sector where assault teams of the U. S. First and Ninth armies closed in yard by yard upon the Germans' Roer river line from Julich to Duren, nine miles to the southeast. Improving weather permitted air support.

One goal of the first army is to break clear of the Hurlgen Forest and drive into more maneuverable country where their tanks will be able to give the infantry close support. The Americans have almost reached the edge of the forest but are not yet clear of it. A staff officer said last night, "We definitely are not out of the forest. The Germans are fighting stubbornly with no indication yet of any collapse."

In their drive toward the industrial Saar basin, Third army troops captured 10 forts in the Maginot line and outflanked another. A fresh breach in the line was scored today.

Bombers Over Railway Yards

Into Front Line Battle for Germany Again

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—Five hundred American fighters shot down at least 94 German planes today during a wide-ranging strafing sweep that took them within 70 miles of Berlin.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—American heavy bombers and fighters, almost 1,300 of them, got into the frontline battle for Germany again today with raids on railway yards at Offenbourg and Bingen and in widespread strafing sweeps over the northwestern corner of the Reich.

Headquarters of U. S. strategic air forces in Europe said 500 fortresses and Liberators bombed the rail yards at Offenbourg, 10 miles southeast of Strasbourg and at Bingen, 15 miles west of Mainz.

Both Rhine valley rail centers are vital to German forces battling the American Third and Seventh and the French First armies on the southern sector of the western front.

More than 250 Mustangs escorted the bombers, and 500 other Mustangs and Thunderbolts ranged over the Ruhr with machine guns blazing.

Followed RAF Attack

The American attacks followed a pre-dawn assault by RAF Lancasters on Munich, and a big air battle yesterday in which approximately 450 German fighters rose to fight off 1,800 American bombers and fighters assaulting the Nazi natural oil refinery at Misburg in a campaign which has showered nearly 7,000 tons of bombs on German oil facilities in 48 hours.

Latest reports today said 132 of the enemy planes were shot down including 16 by bomber gunners. Thirty-six bombers and six American fighters were lost in the Sunday fight. First reports said 50 were lost, but one bomber and seven fighters later turned up safe at friendly bases.

Strike Enemy Capital from Saipan; From India Bases To Hit Thailand

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(P)—The B29 Superfortresses went on the warpath again today, hitting Tokyo again for the second time in four days, and striking also at the enemy's installations in Thailand (Siam).

Like a boxer crossing up his foe with a right and left to vulnerable spots, the big bombers struck the enemy capital from Saipan in one blow and then in another came across simultaneously from India bases to hit Thailand.

"Strategic industrial targets" in Tokyo and "strategic targets" in Thailand were the superfortresses' goal.

First, the war department in telling of a mission from Saipan to the Marianas islands under the leadership of Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell, hitting Tokyo from the same spot the B-29s operated Friday, said:

"Gen. Hansell's 21st bomber command returned to Tokyo again today Nov. 27 for another daylight bombing attack upon strategic industrial targets.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(P)—Not one Superfortress was lost to the enemy as the twin commands of the newly extended B-29 armada smashed today at the Tokyo industrial waterfront and vital railroad yards in Bangkok in Japanese occupied Thailand.

A War Department announcement said the second attack in four days on the Japanese capital was conducted in "sizeable force" but results were not observed because the bombing was accomplished through a heavy undercast with precision instruments.

(Tokyo radio placed the size of both the Tokyo and Bangkok raiding groups at about 40 planes.)

"The mission was mounted from bases on Saipan in the Marianas. The announcement was made at the war department by Gen. H. H. Arnold in his capacity as commanding general of the 20th air force.

More Details Later

"Further details on this B-29 mission will be released as soon as the information becomes available. There will be no further details on this mission tonight."

Then, about an hour later, it told of this attack under Gen. Curtis Lemay, from bases in India:

"A substantial force of B-29 aircraft from Major Gen. Curtis Lemay's 20th bomber command today (Nov. 27, Tokyo time) conducted a daylight bombing mission against strategic targets in the Bangkok area of Japanese-occupied Thailand, Gen. H. H. Arnold, in his capacity as commanding general of the 20th airforce, announced at the war department.

"This operation from India bases is a separate attack from the Marianas base strike against the Tokyo area which took place simultaneously."

Second Attack

This was the second time the superfortresses attacked Bangkok. The giant bombers visited the Thailand port on the first bombing flight in Asia early last June. That attack, however, was not reported until after the initial strike of B-29s against targets on Japan's Kyushu island on June 16.

These jointly timed attacks demonstrated forcefully the growing power of the B-29s. And it's a lot of weight they can throw around—these world's biggest bombers can carry as much as ten tons of explosives each.

In the original announcement, there was no estimate of the number of superfortresses returning to Tokyo today. Last Friday's contingent was described as a "large task force."

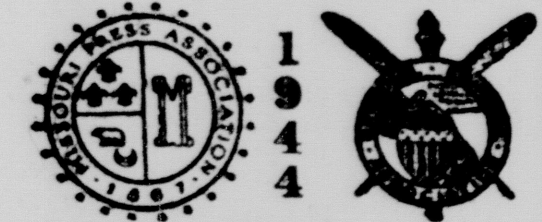

Two Bombers Lost; Crew Safe

Two of the bombers were lost in the Friday raid — the first on the enemy capital since Jimmy Doolittle's little squad of medium bombers hit there on April 18, 1942, flying from a carrier. Yesterday came the welcome word from Saipan that the entire crew of one of these B-29s had been rescued from two rafts. An American destroyer picked them up after they had drifted for almost 24 hours.

THE STORY: Kabateck has had such a good time with Mickey and Don Stevens, hitch-hikers he picked up on his drive across the continent, that he is sorry when they near their destination.

WE got into Hollywood at about 10.

After stopping a couple of times to ask the way, I pulled up in front of the Maybelle Apartments on Van Ness Avenue. The place had been recommended to Mickey by a friend. She'd written to the manager, and the kids were expected.

Maybe I was out of sorts from lack of sleep, but I couldn't show much enthusiasm. There was a depressing air about the long dark corridor and it was about as stuffy as Mrs. Watkins' boarding house.
I helped them bring up the suitcases, the rugs, the rocks, and the other souvenirs, and the apartment began to look better. You even got a view of the hills if you leaned out the window.

"Well, kids," I said, "I'll be running along. You'd better clean up and take a nap. I'll do the same at the hotel, and some time this afternoon I'll be around to get you and then we'll see what Hollywood really looks like."

"Better make it this evening, Leo," said Mickey. "I'm afraid this is no vacation for us. Don has to go out to the school and I'll register at the employment agencies. We can't afford to waste time."

"One day isn't going to make much difference."

"We'd love to, Leo. But please don't insist."

The girl had a mind of her own.
I'd already found that out.

"Okay, Mickey. I'll be around at 7. We'll have dinner together."

At the door of the apartment
she took my hand.

"You'll never know what it meant to us, meeting you like that."

"Forget it."

Fiery Fiorella La Guardia is balking about going to Italy because Brass Hats in the war department won't give him authority. Says the Little Flower: "Either you're allowed to do something or you're not. And I'm not going to Italy to sit on my fanny." ... One off-the-record remark of Winston Churchill's never before published can now see the light of cold print.
In 1940, as France fell and Britain's back was to the wall, he told parliament now, if the Nazi hordes stormed English beaches, the British army would beat them off to the last man. During subsequent applause, Churchill leaned over to Anthony Eden and said sotto voce:
"But I don't know what to hell we are going to do it with. We're going to have to hit the buggers over the head with bottles." ... Although the world didn't know it, Roosevelt jumped in, emptied U. S. arsenals, sent everything to England. ... Another Churchill off-the-record remark which Presidential aides are still chuckling over was when FDR went into Churchill's room in the White House one morning and found him walking up and down the room, dictating to a secretary—cigar in mouth, but not a stitch of clothing on except bedroom slippers.
Churchill, unabashed, remarked:
"I have nothing to conceal, Mr.
President."

Western War Notes. Decision for the present big push against

Marshall when he conferred with

I pushed back the lock of hair that tumbled over her eye, gave her a pat on the cheek and started down the corridor.

THE Plaza Hotel was all right.
I signed the register. The clerk glanced at the name, then leaned forward.

"We've been expecting you, Mr.
Kabateck. Here are a couple of telegrams for you. And Mr. Perez wants you to call him in room 526."

"Mr. Who?"
"Mr. Perez. Don't you know the gentleman?"

"Never heard of him."

Fingering the two envelopes, I slumped down in an armchair.
This was a nasty jolt. The only person who knew my address was Boggio, and Boggio wasn't the kind of guy to send messages of welcome.

Finally I opened one of the telegrams. It was the second. In the strongest language compatible with the rules of Western Union, Boggio bawled me out for not having answered the first. I opened it in turn. It was three days old and ordered me to sell my car and take the first plane back to New York. There was no explanation.

I sat there in a daze, then pulled myself together and re-read the message. The dirty swine was actually telling me to sell my car and come back before I'd had a chance to spend a single day in Hollywood. Was he nuts? Or did he think this was funny?

Maybe this fellow Perez was in on the secret. If he knew I was coming here it could only be through Boggio. I shoved the telegrams into my pocket and went back to the desk.

"What was that room number again?"

"Mr. Perez? 526. The house phones are over there."

The buzzer rang several times before I got an answer. Then I heard a voice thick with sleep.

Pay on Cattle Slaughtered

R. M. Battles, Pettis county's representative in the state legislature, has received the following letter from John W. Ellis, Commissioner of Agriculture, which will be of interest to the farmers of the community:

"Dear Mr. Battles: "The 1943 Legislature appropriated $32,323.89 with which to pay indemnity on cattle slaughtered between January 1, 1941 and December 31, 1942, as reactors to the Bang's test. Since this was a deficiency appropriation, the money was not available until the Supreme Court ruled that it could be paid. The court has recently rendered a favorable opinion.

"Checks have been mailed for the state's share of these claims. It is my understanding that the Federal Government will pay the same amount as has been paid by the state. Representatives of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry expect to have these claims certified and ready for payment soon after January 1, 1945.

"If any of the claimants in your county do not understand the method of testing, appraisal, and payment for Bang's reactors, I will be glad to write a letter of explanation to them.

"Very truly yours, "John W. Ellis, "Commissioner."

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Man wanted. . . . The big task at the major league meetings two weeks hence will be to decide what to do about a successor to Kenesaw Mountain Landis as commissioner of baseball. . . . It has been suggested that the major leagues might return to the old commission form of government and it seems likely that Secretary Leslie O'Connor will continue to do the work, with the two league presidents advising him, until the present agreement expires in 1946. . . . To make this setup permanent, however, would invite the same kind of trouble that led to the appointment of Landis in 1921.

History Repeats

The infamous Black Sox scandal, which brought a new form of baseball government, came shortly after the last world war. . . . Then, as now, the big leagues were full of young players, getting their first taste of big money and old timers getting their last chance at it. . . . The gamblers found those two groups were approachable. . . . No one questioned the integrity of the old national commission, but it failed to prevent the scandal. Under Landis' rule no one got excited this year when the news came out that a Washington pitcher had been approached to throw a game at the end of the season.

Another good reason for appointing a new commissioner whose reputation and whose powers will at least be near those of Landis comes from the past war problems baseball must face. A glimpse at the huge national service lists of the clubs indicates how many boys might be affected if they came back to find baseball ruled entirely by representatives of the club owners. The commissioners' first task, as Landis saw it, was to look after the players' interests. . . . The magnates probably intend to be fair, but they don't always have the same ideas as the guys who work for a salary.

Personal Touch

In baseball's earlier times of need, Hugh Fullerton, Sr., wrote a piece for his paper suggesting that Judge Landis would be a good man to take charge of the game. . . . Pop relates that he expected a vigorous scolding when the judge summoned him next day. . . . Instead, Landis confided: "There's no job in the world I'd rather have."

Fishy

LOGAN, Utah, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Here's how GIs fish on Saipan, writes Technician Third Class Grant Robbins:

"The fishing party loads up with several cans of 'C' ration hash and a few hand grenades, catches a ride on the nearest landing barge and heads for open water. The hash is tossed in and in a few moments the fish hit the hash.

"When there is practically a solid mass of fish you yank out the pin, toss the grenade and a slight underwater explosion provides hundreds of dead fish."

Main problem: "Don't worry about small bones as you eat them, but look out for shrapnel."

Montgomery Gets Gold Fish

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Field Marshal Air Bernard L. Montgomery reports that his six goldfish have arrived, "in terrific heart."

The goldfish were shipped by the Missouri Vulture of the 40 & 8. This organization decided that Montgomery was surrounded by noisy pets. How about some nice, quiet ones for a change?

Replied Montgomery: "Thank you very much indeed for your interesting and amusing present of six Missouri goldfish. They arrived yesterday, via Paris, only seven days en route, and were in terrific heart. I should say that in the goldfish world this is probably one of the longest journeys ever made."

Call GOP State Senators

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A meeting of all Republican state senators here Friday, Dec. 1, to plan organization of the senate next January was called today by Sen. George H. Miller of Sedalia, GOP floor leader in the 1943 session.

The Republicans, with a 19 to 15 majority, will control the 1945 senate for the first time since 1921. Last session there were 17 Republicans and 17 Democrats, but the Democrats organized the senate with the vote of Lt. Gov. Frank G. Harris, a Democrat, who presided over the senate.

Miller, who gave up his senate seat to make an unsuccessful race for attorney general, said the Republicans hoped to agree on their choice for president pro tem, floor leader and perhaps other officers at Friday's meeting, which will be attended by the 13 holdover Republican senators elected in 1942 and by the six GOP senators elected Nov. 7.

Sens. Frank M. Frisby of Bethany and M. C. Matthes of Hillsboro have been mentioned as possible choices for president pro tem and Sens. R. Jasper Smith of Springfield and H. R. Williams of Cassville as candidates for majority floor leader.

British at Lamone River

ROME, Nov. 27.—(AP)—British troops, outflanking the Po Valley town of Faenza, have reached the Lamone river at a point three miles southwest of that Bologna-Rimini highway stronghold and are pressing against a new main German delaying position, Allied headquarters announced today.

The village of Belvedere was taken.

The Germans appeared to be preparing to fight another house-to-house battle.

Northeast of the town still other British units moving northwest from Eda occupied Scaldino and reached Albereto, between the Routine and Lamone rivers.

Farther southwest Polish troops gained a foothold on the ridge between the Marzeno and Lamone rivers.

On the Fifth army front south of Bologna American and British forces repulsed several German counterattacks.

Ask for Writ Of Prohibition

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Jack Randazzo asked the state supreme court today for a writ of prohibition preventing issuance of a temporary injunction closing his night club, the Jubilee Village, until a hearing has been held on charges that the place is a public nuisance.

T. A. Faucett, Callaway county prosecutor, has asked Circuit Judge W. M. Dinwiddie to close the night spot near Jefferson City with a temporary injunction until a hearing Feb. 3 on his charge that it is "a public nuisance according to the state liquor control act for the reason that intoxicating liquor has been sold on his premises by Randazzo, his agents and employees without a state license."

Randazzo contended Faucett has "no evidence to support his charge" and challenged the constitutionality of closing a business "without giving bond to indemnify an innocent citizen against loss x x x and without any hearing upon the truth of the allegations."

Senate Rejects Commission

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The senate rejected today a proposed Missouri river advisory commission as part of the $1,000,000 postwar flood control bill. Defeat of the amendment was a triumph for advocates of a Missouri Valley Authority on which Senator Murray (D-Mont) and Langer (R-Ind) demanded a vote. Senator Clark (D-Mo.) appealed vainly for approval of the amendment on the ground that a Missouri river commission, patterned after the Mississippi river commission, would speed relief from periodic floods.

Senator Murray suggested that Clark's amendment was a move to "offset" the authority proposal.

Cuts Down On Smoking

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has cut down on his smoking.

His throat, however, has more to do with it than the cigaret shortage, which has hit the White House along with the rest of the country.

Mr. Roosevelt, telling reporters today that he's lighting up less often, added that it would be tough to be without cigarets. Apparently, however, his supply is sufficient to meet his current requirements.

He said he is not smoking nearly so many now—in fact even since last April when he went south to recover from a winter bronchial condition he has held down his consumption. Instead of two packs a day, he added, he now is using substantially less than one.

Downstairs at a vending machine, where White House employees have purchased cigarets, there wasn't a pack in sight.

Mrs. Roosevelt was the first to confirm the shortage at the White House.

She told her news conference earlier in the day that people around the executive mansion just have to bring their own cigarets now because purchases no longer can be made by the carton.

The president's wife also said she had found Christmas shopping very difficult this year.

Called Before Grand Jury

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—(AP)—State Senators George H. Miller of Sedalia and H. B. Hart of Versailles testified today before a Cole county grand jury investigating reports that some senate secretaries kicked back part of their state pay to the senators who employed them in the 1943 legislative session.

Miller appeared voluntarily.

Discussing a signed statement by his former secretary that she had returned to him $164 of her pay, Miller told reporters she was hired on a part time basis with the understanding some of her pay would go to a secretary in Miller's Sedalia office to do part of his senate work.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 27.—(AP)—State Senators George H. Miller of Sedalia and H. B. Hart of Versailles were subpoenaed to appear today before a Cole county grand jury which is investigating reports that some senators levied kickbacks from salaries of their state-paid secretaries in the 1943 legislative session.

It was a signed statement by Miller's former secretary that she had returned to him $164 of her pay which set off the jury probe. The secretary, Miss Ruth Riemenschneider and several other former Miller employees have been quizzed by the jury. So has Hart's former secretary, Mrs. Georgia Mae Ferguson, who told reporters "I kept all my pay. I didn't kick back to anybody."

What they told the jury remains a legal secret under laws forbidding revelation of grand jury testimony.

Both Miller and Hart are Republicans. Miller was the GOP nominee for attorney general, but was defeated Nov. 7 along with most other GOP candidates.

FDR Might Even Surprise Everybody

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he might go away on a vacation and asserted that he might surprise everybody.

Answering a news conference question, he said he might go to most any point, north, east, south or west and that his plans were somewhat in a state of flux.

Without any amplification, he added he might surprise everyone.

While he has repeatedly expressed a hope for another meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. The most recent indications have been that it would be deferred until early next year.

Ask SS Tax Be Doubled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The administration formerly placed before congress today its request that the social security tax be allowed to double January 1.

A. J. Altmeyer, social security board chairman, told the house ways and means committee that congress either must let the tax rise or assume an obligation to appropriate subsidies later to meet social security obligations.

A "freeze," he said, will leave security funds inadequate. Altmeyer appeared as a bloc sought to compromise the impending fight by suggesting that the levy be allowed to rise to from 1 to 1½ per cent against both employer and employee, instead of to the 2 per cent level provided in the 1935 social security act.

Congress twice before has passed special "freeze" legislation on the ground that reserves in the fund are adequate.

Altmeyer told the committee "It appears probable that the workers of this country and business generally can absorb the 1 per cent increase as readily or more readily at this time than they could a year hence or at any other time in the near future."

He added that continuing the present contribution rate indefinitely eventually will necessitate raising the employees' contribution rate later to a point where future beneficiaries will be obliged to pay more for their benefits than if they obtained their insurance from a private company.

All But Two Bowl Games Are Complete
All Conferences are Practically Decided in Last Week's Games
By Harold Claassen
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Eleven Saturdays of college football have determined the casts of the various New Year's day bowl games, decided a majority of the conference championships and left the Army-Navy clash as the top attraction for this weekend.
The Cadets and Middles tangle Saturday in Baltimore before a war-bond crowd in a game Army must win to retain its No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll.
Schedule for Jan. 1 Bowl Games
Here's the program for the Jan. 1 bowl games (team records in parenthesis):
Rose Bowl — At Pasadena: Southern California (7-0-2) vs. Tennessee (7-0-1).
Sugar Bowl — At New Orleans: Duke (5-4-0) vs. Alabama (5-1-2).
Orange Bowl—At Miami: Georgia Tech (7-2-0) and one game to play) vs. Tulsa (6-2-0 and one game to play).
Cotton Bowl — At Dallas: Texas Christian (7-1-1) and one game to play) vs. Oklahoma A & M (7-1-0).
Oil Bowl — At Houston: Rice (4-6-0 and one game to play) vs. opponent still to be selected.
Sun bowl — At El Paso, Tex.: Both teams to be selected.
Conference Roundups
A roundup of the conference races:
Big Ten: Ohio State defeated Michigan Saturday 18-14 and annexed the title, replacing the Wolverines and Purdue, co-champions of 1943. The Buckeyes were denied a chance to play in the Rose Bowl when Big Ten faculty advisors voted 7 to 3 against lifting the post season ban.
Big Six: Oklahoma must defeat Nebraska Saturday to retain the title outright for a second straight year. The Huskers pounced on Kansas State 35-0, while the Sooners were being dumped by the Oklahoma Aggies 28-6.
Missouri Valley: Oklahoma A. & M. voted the laurels after defeating Tulsa, last year's champion, 46 to 40, on Oct. 28.
Southern: Duke crushed North Carolina, 33 to 0, and won crown for the eighth time in the past decade.
Pacific Coast Conference: Southern California, which took title on Jan. 1 by drubbing Washington in the Rose Bowl, repeats as the champions. Trojans, who again will appear in the bowl, smashed UCLA, 40-13.
Southwest: Texas Christian was given little chance at outset, ended two-year reign of Texas Longhorns by slipping past Rice 9-6. Previously the Frogs had nipped Texas 7-6.
Southwest: Georgia Tech, blanked by Notre Dame in 21-0 contest, must defeat Georgia Saturday to retain crown. Tennessee closed its season unbeaten with a 21-7 conquest of Kentucky.
East: Yale and Pennsylvania both unbeaten in the cloistered Ivy league but Army and Navy will clash Saturday for the Lambert trophy, emblematic of the eastern football supremacy. The Middles held it last year.
Service: Randolph Field, voted No. 1 among the service outfits, swamped Amarillo Air Base, 33 to 0, to keep the honor while Iowa Pre-Flight toyed with Iowa, 30 to 6.

Games This Weekend
Games this week in addition to the Army-Navy struggle:
Thursday: Tulane at Louisiana State, William & Mary at Richmond, Texas A & M at Texas and Maryland at VMI.
Friday: Tulsa at Miami.
Saturday: Great Lakes at Notre Dame, Texas Christian at Southern Methodist, Virginia vs. North Carolina, Nebraska U. at Oklahoma, Georgia Tech at Georgia, Southwest Texas at Rice.

'Slammin' Sam' Wins The Portland Open
By Rus Newland
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27.—(P)—Samuel Jackson Snead, hitting the comeback trail after 26 months of navy service, was professional golf's man of the hour today, winner of the $15,500 war bonds 72-hole Portland open tournament. He tacked up a 289 to head a fine field of pros and amateurs and with the victory pocketed $2,675 in war bonds.
The husky Hot Springs, Virginian, followed by a last day crowd estimated at 5,000 fans, hit his booming tee shots, scrambled frequently out of trouble, and putted well enough to lead Mike Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y., by two strokes.
Snead's initial effort after more than two years' absence from major competition highlighted an event that otherwise saw the start of what may be the crack-up of the noted tournament winning combination by Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., and Harold McSpaden, Philadelphia.
Between them, Nelson, former national open and PGA champion, and McSpaden have cleaned up on practically all the competition. Snead, who enlisted in the navy after bagging the PGA title in 1942, is back to challenge them now.
Nelson, incidentally, finished in a fourth place tie yesterday at 295 for $1,025 in war bonds and McSpaden, far back, deadlocked with four others in eighth position with an even 300, and $225 in bonds. Nelson, this year has won $40,750, and McSpaden, $27,000 in bonds.
Big Ted Longworth, local entry, maintained a steady pace to take third prize with a 295. He received for $1,350 in war bonds, five hundred dollars less than second place Turnesa.

Cigarettes in Philippines
By Den Schedler
GEN. MAC ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 27.—(P)—GI Joe, fighting the Japanese in the Philippines, may not see cities like Paris and have pretty girls swarm over his jeep, but he is assured of cigarettes while his buddies in Europe face a shortage.
Battleline fatigue and nervousness under fire makes cigarettes almost a necessity for soldiers.
Supply Officer Maj. Robert O. Russell, Campaign, Ill., said that so far in this campaign cigarettes are available for all at the rate of a pack per man per day.
"We figure cigrets in with rations the same as sugar, salt, or meat," he said. "Officers and enlisted men get the same allowance and no partiality is shown as to favorite brands."
It would give a tip-off to the

Cards Back to Cairo And Browns to Cape
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—(P)—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals and American league champion St. Louis Browns again will train at Cairo, Ill., and Cape Girardeau, Mo., next spring for the third consecutive year.
W. O. Dewitt, general manager of the Browns, said his club probably will start training about the middle of March and that he hoped to arrange several major league exhibition games to be played at Cape Girardeau.
Owner Sam Breadon said, however, that the Cardinals do not plan any major league opposition during the training period at Cairo. Except for games with the army team from Memphis, the Cardinals played only intrasquad exhibitions during their training period last year.

Many Uses For Nuts In Winter Season

Record Crop Is Now Moving To The Markets

Home salted nuts are enjoying renewed popularity this fall with a record nut crop moving to market. Nuts salted at home are comparatively inexpensive and can help to make up for shortages of other holiday season delicacies this year.

Frying in deep fat is generally considered to give the best flavor to many nuts—almonds and peanuts for example. But since fats are scarce now, home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest using the oven or frying pan methods, which roast delicious nuts with a minimum of fat.

Blanching
Removing the skin from smooth surfaced nutmeats—is not necessary before roasting such tender-skinned nuts as pecans, hickory nuts and walnuts. To blanch almonds, pour boiling water over them and hold at simmering temperatures (185 F.) for 3 minutes. Then drain. The skins should come off easily when pressed with thumb and forefinger. Spread the blanched kernels on absorbent paper and dry overnight at ordinary room temperature. Peanuts may be water-blanced like almonds but this is unnecessary if they are to be prepared in the oven, because the skins will slip off easily after roasting.

In the following recipes, 2 teaspoons of cooking oil or melted vegetable or table fat—just enough to cover the kernels—and 1 teaspoon of salt, are sufficient for each cup of nutmeats.

"Frying Pan Roasting"
To roast pecans, hickory nuts, combine whole nutmeat halves with the oil or melted fat in a frying pan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until hot through. Avoid overcooking. Nutmeats, particularly pecans, darken a little more after being removed from the heat, and become crispier as they cool. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt.

Blanched almonds or blanched raw peanuts may be roasted similarly, but they must be heated a little longer—until light brown

BOWEL CLEANING POWER OF KICKATO MEDICINE

One man recently took Kickato three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and system were thoroughly cleansed that his constant dull headaches came to an end; several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the pains in his knee disappeared.

At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way. Kickato Medicine contains water soluble chemicals that cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver. Miserable people soon feel different. So don't go on suffering. Obtain Kickato Medicine 49 cents for a large 12-oz. bottle. Caution take as directed.

A New Salad

A tasty salad may also give an impressive line-up of food values, and luckily from foods that are very plentiful right now.

It's an egg and peanut-butter salad, served on shredded cabbage. Here's how to make it. Hard cook the eggs, then cut them in half and mash the yolks with peanut butter and mayonnaise, plus a little salt and lemon juice and a dash of tabasco sauce. Stuff the egg whites with this mixture, and serve on a bed of shredded cabbage with either French or mayonnaise dressing.

Glazed Apples

Apples cooked on top of the stove may have the appearance and flavor of baked apples. For home cooking, a method of top-stove cookery known as "glazing" may be used instead of baking.

Scrub the apples well. Remove cores. Cut a slit in the skin all the way around the apple at right angles to the core to prevent the skin from bursting during cooking. Place apples in a saucepan. Make a mixture of spice and sugar using about a teaspoon of allspice or cinnamon to each half cup of sugar. Put the sugar and spice mixture in the holes left by removing the cores. Add a fourth cup of water for each apple in the pan. Cover the pan and cook on top of the stove over low heat. Turn apples once during cooking. Cook until apples are tender—usually 7 to 15 minutes. The last minute before the apples are done, remove the cover. Take care not to overcook for, once tender, apples cook to mush quickly.

For this method of cooking, or for baking in the oven, it is important to choose varieties of apples that hold their shape well.

In color—(about 15 to 30 minutes in all, depending on the size of nuts and degree of brownness desired.) For "redskin" peanuts, follow this same method, but use unblanched raw peanuts.

"Oven-Roasting"

Combine nutmeats and the oil or melted fat, and spread in a single layer in a shallow pan. Heat in a moderately hot oven (375 F.) stirring frequently, until hot through. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt. As in the "frying pan method," almonds and peanuts must be heated a little longer than pecans, hickory nuts, or walnuts.

Another method of preparing raw peanuts is to roast them in the oven with their skins on, adding the fat later. First, spread the shelled peanuts in one layer in a shallow pan and heat in a moderate hot oven 375 F., stirring frequently, 15 to 30 minutes. For "redskins," add fat immediately after removing from oven. 1 teaspoon to each cup of peanuts. Stir until evenly coated. Drain on absorbent paper, and sprinkle with salt. For plain salted peanuts, cool, and slip the skins off by pressing between thumb and forefinger. Add fat and place over low heat, shaking or stirring nuts constantly until well coated and warm. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt.

Peanuts bought roasted in the shell may be shelled, warmed in a little fat over low heat, and salted as in above recipe.

The Syracuse Homemakers club has begun work of the new year. The home of Mrs. C. J. Neitzert, at which it last met, was decorated with chrysanthemums. Sorghums

Sugar, honey, sirups, molasses, and sorghum are quicker sources of energy than other foods; that is, they can be digested and used by the body rapidly. Most people do not often need quick energy foods. All these sweets do add a flavor that is particularly pleasing to many people. Sorghum will add a fair amount of iron and some calcium and vitamin B along with its energy food and fine flavor. Sorghum is only half as sweet as granulated sugar. When using it in baked products one must remember that it has considerable acid requiring the addition of about 1/2 teaspoon of soda for each cup of sorghum used. The acidity of sorghum varies and some may require a little more soda than others. It is preferable to use standardized recipes using sorghum rather than trying to use a favorite recipe and substituting sorghum for sugar.

Cakes, cookies, breads, and other products using sorghum will probably be heavier than baked products made with sugar but they will stay moist and fresh longer. A lower temperature should be used for baking products made with sorghum, molasses or honey than for products made with sugar. Baked beans, gingerbread, Boston brown bread, and many cakes, cookies, and candies made with sorghum have a special tang which is pleasing to most people, especially at this season of the year.

The color, flavor, clarity, and density of the sorghum are points to consider when buying or making sorghum. If sorghum is poured boiling hot into sterile containers and sealed it should keep for months. If not sealed and kept in a warm place, it may mold and even ferment.

Turkey At Best Fully Developed

In normal times turkeys should be sold when fully developed for market, and too many of them are sold before they are ready for market, is the belief expressed by E. M. Funk, of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, in answering inquiries about the time to market turkeys.

In a study made in the state in 1941, it was found that 25 per cent of the turkeys were sold before they were 26 weeks old. This did not prove that the turkeys were not ready for market, but a study made in the packing plants during the second week of November in that year showed that only 50 per cent of the hens were grade A and only 26 per cent of the toms were grade A.

Those who graded these turkeys made note of the reasons why the birds graded into lower grades were placed in those grades. These results showed that 45 per cent of the toms were graded down because of lack of finish, and 33 per cent of them had too many pin feathers. The hens also were graded down because of lack of finish and poor feathering. Such defects were found because the turkeys were marketed too young. In most cases these turkeys should have been held for the Christmas market. They would then have graded much higher and the producer would have increased his profits.

Last year and again this year the United States Army has asked producers to supply turkeys early in the fall for the armed forces. This is necessary so that these turkeys may be moved to the distant points where the members of these services are stationed. It is a patriotic duty for the industry to supply these needs.

Ideal To Get Garden Ready

This has been an ideal fall, says J. U. Morris, County Extension Agent, to get the garden area ready for next spring's garden.

One of the practices that is important in producing vegetables is the fall plowing of the garden. First the garden area should be thoroughly cleaned off of all plant refuse and debris and this burned so as to destroy insects and plant disease, if possible. After this is done, a heavy application of manure should be applied. Barnyard manure should be applied at the rate of 15 tons per acre, then the garden should be plowed just as deeply as possible—8 to 10 inches.

Deep plowing in the fall will turn up many insects which winter in the ground, thus exposing them to freezing which will kill large numbers of them and lessen the chance from damage of insects next season.

Fall plowed ground will be in condition to work earlier in the spring and the freezing and thawing during the winter will break up the soil into small particles so it can be worked down easily into a firm, mellow, seed-bed, free from lumps.

This type of seedbed, in addition to holding moisture, makes it possible for the seeds to be covered the same depth and even the smallest of vegetable seeds will come in close contact with the soil so upon germination the roots become established immediately.

Tips On Keeping Of Citrus Fruits

For best keeping of citrus fruits at home the housewife, especially if she buys these fruits in quantity, can take some tips from what is known about commercial storage requirements.

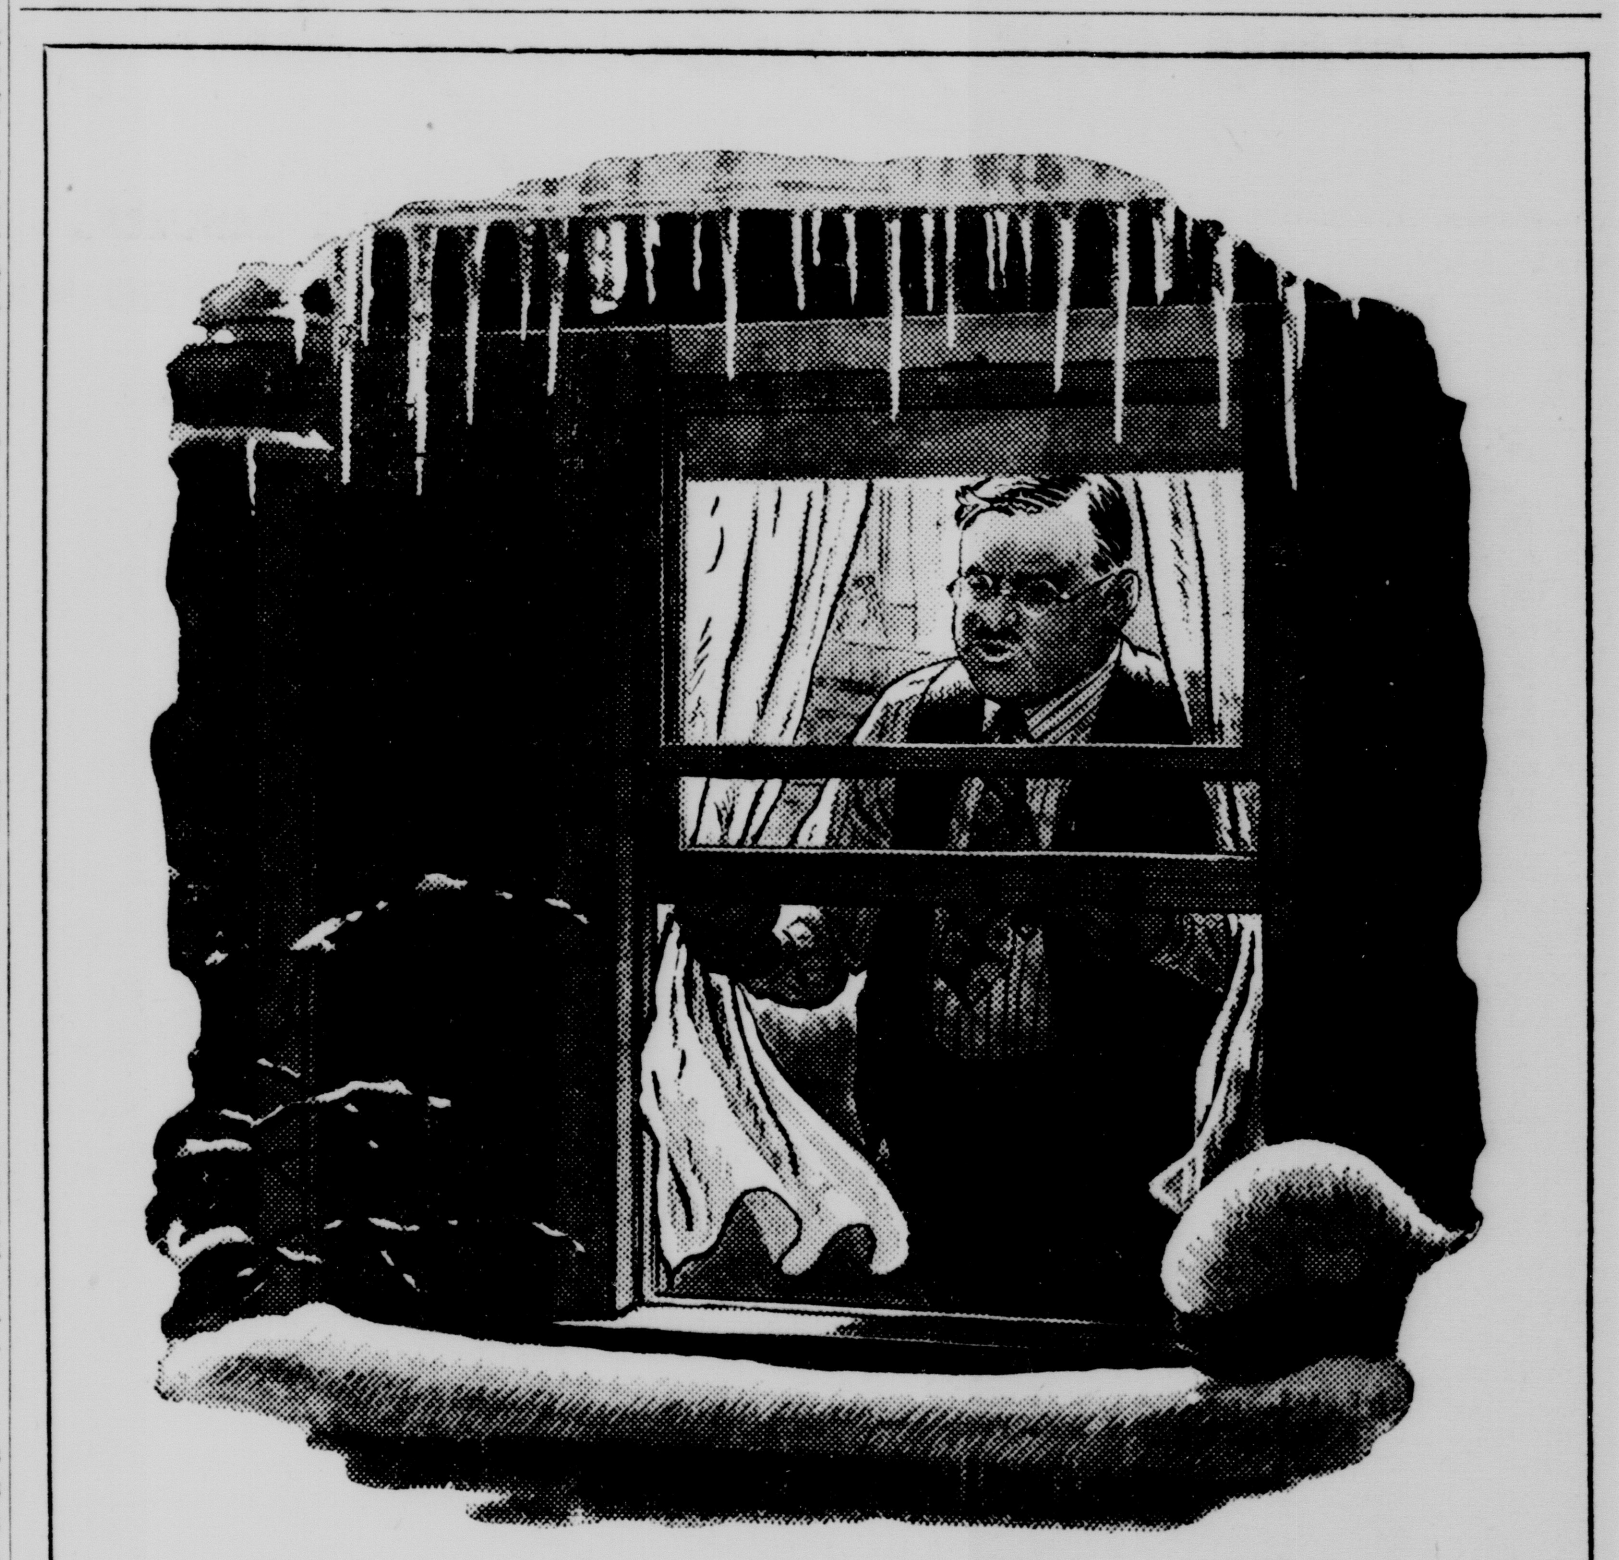

Oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes all need a moist atmosphere in storage to prevent drying out, but the temperatures for best keeping are different, according to plant scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For oranges, the best storage temperature is just above freezing—32 to 34 F. At this temperature they may be held in commercial storage 8 or 10 weeks. Limes keep best at a slightly warmer temperature—45 to 48 F.—and may keep 6 to 8 weeks. Lemons like it even warmer—55 to 58 F.—and may keep 1 to 4 months. The temperature for grapefruit depends on its source and condition. Sound fruit, not overmature and not likely to suffer from stem rot, can be held at 45 to 55 F. for 6 weeks in commercial storage. If there is danger of stem rot, 32 to 34 F. is best.

From these facts the housewife can conclude that the ordinary kitchen is too warm for keeping citrus fruit more than a few days or a week; that oranges, lemons and some grapefruit will keep well in the refrigerator but not lemons; that fruit should be covered in the refrigerator to keep from drying out; and that no citrus fruit should be exposed to freezing temperature.

Warm—but not fair!

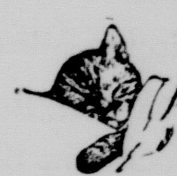

JOE's got the house too hot by careless firing of the furnace, so he's trying to heat all outdoors by opening the windows. Through wasteful practices, he isn't being fair to his own family—or to other families using coal. He isn't helping America.

This winter it's vital to conserve coal as never before. This isn't because less coal is being produced. Actually, millions more tons are being mined this year than last—by fewer men. Quite a tribute to mine owners and miners alike!

There are adequate facilities for hauling coal to your city. But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local coal dealer is handicapped by a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him. Order before you're down to your last shovelful.

And conserve the coal he is able to deliver to you through firing carefully, closing off unused rooms, pulling down shades at night and through other simple precautions. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.

As part of a nationwide drive to secure civilian employees from a dwindling national labor supply, Lieut. Forrest E. Clark of the Signal Corps arrived in Sedalia today, to procure essential personnel for detailed clerical and analytical research work in a highly confidential branch of Signal Intelligence.

Lt. F. E. Clark

Many of the positions to be filled require high school and college graduates of high mental qualifications. Such individuals need have no experience beyond their formal education. Still other positions are open to girls with only two years of high school who have had some type of general office experience. The highly confidential nature of the materials which the employ will handle demands that we place personal integrity, loyalty and unimpeachable character above all other qualifications. All applicants hired must be between the ages of 18 to 35 inclusive, and only women or draft deferred men not employed in an essential industry will be considered.

Lieut. Clark stressed the fact that these positions must be filled immediately. "The personnel is vitally needed; that's why I'm here. I am authorized to interview and appoint applicants in the space of a few hours."

Lieut. Clark is at the U. S. E. S.

office, Fifth street and Ohio avenue or after 7:00 p. m. at the Bothwell hotel.
